An illustration of a rainy scene. In the foreground, a stream flows from the left towards the right. The water is dark green with white foam and bubbles. On the left bank, there are dark, jagged shapes representing rocks or trees. In the background, a boat with a white hull and a dark roof is on the water. The sky is dark grey with many white diagonal lines representing rain falling across the scene. The overall color palette is muted, with greens, greys, and browns.
